Happy Easter Newsletter !

Mother Hen Foundation (MHF) is holding a fun Easter Fair at Weston Village Hall on Easter Saturday April 8th. Designed to celebrate Easter and raise funds to support Pastor Kevin and Kenyan families in Poultry farming. Supplied by the government, the course will train our Kenyan families to rear chickens sustainably and to support themselves.

New communications are being designed and published by MHF Trustee and Graphic Design ace Richard Barnes, proprietor of Litchfield Morris design agency. This year our new website has been uploaded, providing key information and in the longer term an opportunity to donate.

New MHF Achievement Award is a certificate for our Administrators to present to students or family members that have achieved good exam results, regular attendance or faithful service. We are proud of the MHF members who have received these awards.

Pastor Kevin Ogada our Kenyan Administrator, has awarded the Achievement Award to Keiden for excellence in learning and attendance at MHF Sunday School and to Millicent for being the best and longest serving cook at his school and orphanage in Kenya.

Daniel Masih of Pakistan has won first place in his term exams and has succeeded in moving up to the higher year. Daniel is supported in his studies by one of our sponsors. We hope he will be able to attend university.

MHF objectives are to train individuals to become self sufficient. Agreeing with Oxfam, we give a man a fishing rod, rather than a fish, so he can fish for himself.

There is a big difference between MHF and large charities. No middle men, no big charity salaries, no transaction fees – just direct to those in need. Please give to support Pastor Kevin's work with poor families, orphans and widows and receive his personal response:
